June 15th to 19th 2022!

The Hastings Fringe Comedy Festival originates from an idea from two local Hastonians Chris and Jake. The free and independent festival showcases a large variety of professional comedians and up-and-coming comics from around the UK and Europe. Shows are performed at various venues throughout Hastings, East Sussex, over five days in June.

McPhersons Client, Hastings Fringe Comedy Festival Ltd, has a big passion for finding, supporting and promoting new comedy talent which is at the core of their ethos of running this festival.

Comedians from all over the UK will bring their Edinburgh Fringe preview shows, tour previews and work in progress to various venues in Hastings and Hastings Old Town.

Shows are £5 entry. The headline acts are £10. These include:

Maisie Adam who will be performing a work in progress of her new show 'Buzzed' before going on a national theatre tour later this year;
The Dark Room, an interactive role play game by Australian comedian John Robertson;

Closing the Fringe on Sunday 19th will be Simon Brodtkin formerly known as Lee Nelson and known for his high-level pranks such as handing Theresa May her P45 at a conservative party conference.

Other acts confirmed include Tony Law, Sikisa, Sunil Patel, Lily Phillips, Elliot Steel, Ivo Graham, Russell Hicks, Harriet Kemsley and many more, with 60 shows to choose from. Acts will be performing their previews, work in progresses and tour shows across 8 venues.

If you're looking for the future bright stars of stand up comedy then Hastings is the festival showcase you really shouldn't miss out on.

"It's a relief to find an accountant that we trust to look after the financial side of things whilst we get on with doing what we love"
